ART ÉLYSÉES

The dream-inspired journey of an Italian art collector

Carré Rive Gauche has epitomised Parisian chic for the past 40 years, alluring collectors, decorators and art lovers alike with its sophistication and elegance.

Located in the heart of Saint-Germain-des-Prés, the association of gallery owners and antique dealers is an institution and a reference in decorative arts, seamlessly juxtaposing archaeology, mediaeval art, modern art, contemporary art and design.

Every autumn, Carré Rive Gauche unveils its latest ideas, and for the first time ever, it will participate in a trade show outside its neighbourhood.

From October 19th to 23rd, 2017, in the Design section at Art Élysées, Carré Rive Gauche will be presenting a lush and original decor that draws its inspiration from the palace of an Italian collector.

For this occasion, about fifteen of the association's member galleries will also exhibit exceptional pieces from their collections. Géraldine Prieur (Galerie Studio Rouge Absolu) will masterfully design and decorate Carré Rive Gauche's booth by recreating the interior of the palace with some of the treasures from the Carré that this imaginary Italian collector has brought in from Paris. Taking you with her on this journey, Géraldine Prieur will give free rein to the poetry of her creativity, allowing the various works from participating galleries to coexist in a dreamlike atmosphere.
